Mrs A Jones – Assistant Headteacher

I attained a master's degree in Drama and completed a PGCE in Drama, English and Media. I began my career at a mixed comprehensive, overseeing the Drama department. I joined Weald in 2010, initially as Head of Drama and further developed my experience in post as both Head of Year 7 and 8 and Head of Sixth Form. In 2017, I was accredited as a Specialist Leader in Education and have recently attained my National Professional Qualification for Senior Leadership. I am now Assistant Headteacher and will be responsible for overseeing key areas including quality assurance, student voice and personal development, as well as working with both staff and students to further enhance our approach to formative assessment. I will lead on 'Curriculum for All', ensuring that our teaching reflects the diverse and multi-cultural society that we live in. I am wholly committed to ensuring that high quality teaching and learning, as well as the provision of exceptional support to students, is at the core of what we do.
